Jones Returns: APA Delegation Scatters to Dogpatch, Hot Springs

Paul H. Jones, general manager and managing editor, returned to his desk today fully recovered from a heart attack. The doctors told him he's as good as new. This is good news not only to Jones but also to your editor, who has been manning the news desk the last couple of months.

It reminds me of Marvin Watterson's yarn about what the mule told him back in his farming days. Quote—

"It's not the heavy hauling that hurts—it's the hammer, hammer, hammer of the hooves on the hard highway."

Heading up 30,000 words of news every day is a chore, believe Jones and me.

The Star staff was stretched very thin this week-end. The Billy Dan Jones and Pod Rogers families and your editor took off at 6 a.m. Friday for the Summer convention of the Arkansas Press Association at Fayetteville Friday noon through Saturday night.

While headquarters were at the Holiday Inn all the business sessions were held at various buildings on the University campus.

The Rogers family left Fayetteville late Saturday afternoon to see the finalists at the Arkansas Poultry Federation's Princess Pageant at Hot Springs.

Your editor and the Jones family left Fayetteville at 7:30 Sunday morning, lunched at Harrison, then spent three hours at Al Capp's Dogpatch, U.S.A., ate Sunday night at Hot Springs, and rolled into Hope shortly before 11 p.m.

Dogpatch was not on our original schedule, and the only camera in the crowd was carried by Pod Rogers to photograph the Poultry Federation Pageant. So our crowd came home without any pictures of Dogpatch—and, believe me, it's a pictureworthy scene. Pod, however, is returning to Dogpatch this week-end with a crowd of circulation carrier boys and will make the picture coverage at that time.

Dogpatch is a great credit to the entertainment world in Arkansas. Al Capp deserves the profound thanks of our state for having put together a playground that rivals the older, more famous ones of the nation.

Entrance to Dogpatch is a spectacular affair. You descend hundreds of feet by an inclined cable railway to the floor of a magic valley filled with marvelous attractions. You pay $4 for an adult ticket, and after that everything is free.

Free, that is, except for the trinkets every tourist buys.

In the great lagoon at the bottom of the valley there are thousands of big rainbow trout, all waiting to be fed. Dispensers around the lagoon will give you a handful of fish-food pellets for a nickel. You throw a handful in the lagoon and chaos breaks out among the fish, ranging from 5 pounds upward. I suspect I dropped an extra $5 while testing the rainbows' appetite in different parts of the valley.

There is a fine ride on a park railway which carries you over a bridge spanning a 125-foot canyon, and somewhere in the dark woods you are entertained by an old-time Western train holdup.

I'm going back another day.

Appreciation to Bob Hope

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP) — Bob Hope has been given a special U.S. Army Oscar for "appreciation of 30 years of worldwide morale building."

The Army presented Hope a golden globe with the figure of a soldier at its side during the annual Army Ball Saturday. Vice President Spiro T. Agnew was guest of honor.

In accepting the award, Hope, who has entertained GIs from World War II to Vietnam, called it one of the high points of his career.

He and Agnew gave the audience a series of one-liners and exchanged barbs.

Both Houses Take Up Drive to Legislative U.S. Out of Indochina

By JIM ADAMS
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The months-long drive to legislate all U.S. forces out of Indochina by Dec. 31 goes to the House and Senate floors this week—and appears headed for defeat in both.

Climax votes could come Wednesday afternoon.

Antiwar groups that sent hundreds of citizen lobbyists to Capitol Hill last week to line up votes for the year-end U.S. pull-out say they can win at least in the Senate.

But they came away with few hard commitments beyond voting they already had—votes leaving them short of victory in the Senate, far short in the House.

The issue in both houses: Cut off funds for the war effective Dec. 31, unless President Nixon declares such action would jeopardize release of American prisoners or safe withdrawal of U.S. troops.

Another plan was proposed today in Boston by Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield. In a speech prepared for the Boston College commencement exercise, he called for a series of "phased and rapid U.S. withdrawals" from South Vietnam, in exchange for a phased release of Americans held prisoners of war.

Mansfield said President Nixon should seek such an arrangement "by a specific date in the near future."

STILL VERY ACTIVE on her royal rounds, Britain's Queen Mother Elizabeth turned up in a very non-military new feathered bonnet at color presentation ceremonies for infantry units at Colchester, Essex.

Albuquerque Calls in Guards to Halt Riots, 13 Youths Wounded

ALBUQUERQUE, N.M. (AP) — Two battalions of the New Mexico National Guard were mobilized today to back Albuquerque police against any recurrence of a wild night of disorder that left at least 13 persons wounded by gunfire.

The trouble flared Sunday afternoon after police apparently tried to make an arrest at a crowded park. Before it was over, downtown businesses were burned or looted and police headquarters was stoned by an estimated crowd of 500 young people. About 150 persons were arrested.

In addition to the persons wounded by gunshots, police estimated "dozens" of others were injured from flying bottles and stones, beatings, and smoke or tear gas inhalation.

National Guard Gen. Ed Hooten arrived in Albuquerque this morning from Ft. Bliss, Tex., where the New Mexico Guard had been in summer training.

About 1,000 troops were expected in the city.

Police Capt. James LaRue said, "There is no way we can handle another buildup like we had last night ... If they group up like that again, I think the only way we can take the park is with the Guard."

An estimated 500 young people had clashed with heavily armed police Sunday and during the night in disorders starting at Roosevelt Park, about two miles from downtown; then at the police headquarters downtown, and later in areas ranging from downtown to the park.

LaRue said the trouble started when "police tried to arrest a marijuana smuggler in the park." He said he believed the later disorder was organized deliberately.

After the Guard mobilization, a state of civil emergency proclaimed by City Manager Richard Wilson was lifted.

Between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m. today, police moved in to arrest about 30 holdouts in Roosevelt Park.

The latest violence came between 3 a.m. and 4 a.m., when two persons were hit by shotgun pellets after police drew a restraining line around a looted liquor store.

A third person had been wounded there earlier by an armed employee of the store.

Of the others wounded, one was hit by gunfire at crowded Roosevelt Park when the trouble started. Police had no official statement on the attempted arrests.

Hospitals in the city reported this morning that they had treated a total of 13 persons for gunshot wounds in connection with the disorder. Neither police nor the hospitals could say where all the shootings occurred.

Warm, Humid Weather for Arkansas

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Warm, humid weather is expected to continue over Arkansas through Tuesday with a chance of afternoon and evening thundershowers.

Sunday's showers were widely scattered and rainfall amounts generally light, except in Central Arkansas. Heavy rain was reported Sunday afternoon in western Little Rock where 2.27 inches fell in about a 45-minute period. There also were reports of minor wind damage and some small hail was reported in North Little Rock.

High temperatures Sunday ranged from 88 at Fayetteville to 100 at Pine Bluff. Temperatures early this morning were mostly in the low 70s.

Rainfall reports for the 24-hour period ended at 7 a.m. included a trace at Fayetteville, .15 inches at Memphis, .07 at Little Rock and .15 at Fort Smith.

Plane With 24 Aboard Is Missing

HONOLULU (AP) — Military aircraft searched the Pacific Ocean 700 miles southwest of here early today for a missing Air Force transport jet carrying 24 persons believed to be military personnel.

The four-engine C135, military version of the Boeing 707, disappeared Sunday on a 2,227-mile flight from Pago Pago, American Samoa, to Hawaii.

An area 200 miles north of Palmyra Island became the center of search operations after rescue plans picked up the signal of a crash position indicator, said Capt. Bill Ballee, an Air Force information officer.

"We can't be positive that the device is from the missing plane," Ballee said. "We'll only know for use after we have it picked up after daylight."

He said no debris had been spotted.

Ballee said the crash position indicator is ejected from a plane when the crew knows it is going down. It sends a constant radio signal to guide searching aircraft to the site.

Ballee said the device was spotted by a search plane that followed the beacon's signal.

Concern Over Jobs for Returning GIs

By KENNETH J. FREED
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — Voicing great concern for the growing number of Vietnam veterans returning home to the unemployment rolls, President Nixon has ordered an intensive, six-point federal effort to get jobs or job training for ex-servicemen.

"This is an effort which I consider to be of the highest priority in federal manpower and training programs," the President said Sunday, "and of such importance that every available program should be used to the maximum ..."

In a letter to James D. Hodgson naming the secretary of labor to direct the job-finding effort Nixon wrote:

"I am greatly concerned at any denial of civilian job opportunities to these young men who have borne the burden of fighting."

"I am also deeply concerned at the evidence that the most serious problem is experienced by those with educational deficiencies or other disabilities."

Hodgson told newsmen 370,000 Vietnam-era veterans don't have jobs, an unemployment rate of 10.8 per cent for those between 20 and 29 years of age. He said the jobless rate for that age group among nonveterans is 8.4 per cent.

The six points Nixon outlined

Tractor Falls Through Bridge, Driver Unhurt

James White Jr. of Ozan escaped injury Friday when the farm tractor he was driving fell through a bridge over one of the relief bridges of the north fork of Ozan Creek near the Langford Ranch near Ozan.

He was enroute from a soybean field to another field south of the middle fork bridge on the east patrol road and had to use the route because the county road bridge over the middle fork won't hold anything but small farm equipment.

The front end of the tractor dropped through the bridge but the blade served as a brace and kept it from going completely through. Ira Graves was following on a larger tractor and pulled the vehicle out. They went to the Mitchell Parks farm and got timbers and patched the bridge for temporary crossing.

Seven Slain in Detroit Dope Pad

DETROIT (AP) — Four women and three men were shot to death today at a Detroit home in what police described as a gangland-type slaying apparently related to an underworld war for control of narcotics.

Police District Inspector James Bannon said all seven victims were shot in the head at close range. An eighth person identified as Robert Gardner, 28, was reported in critical condition at Detroit's Ford Hospital.

The dead were not immediately identified.

Police said the slayings apparently were the latest result of a narcotics war which has claimed about 25 lives in Detroit. A search of the house, Bannon said, turned up a dozen handguns, a quantity of suspected narcotics and narcotics paraphernalia.

All of the victims were found in the first-floor living room of the house. The four women had been tied up. Their purses were found in the room, untouched.

The bodies were discovered about 4:30 a.m. by Mrs. Gardner, who told detectives she took her husband to the hospital, then called police.

Detective Sgt. Donald Carter said there were no signs of a struggle in the house.

A witness, who was not identified, told police he saw two men run from the building shortly after the shots were fired.

The house where the shootings took place is located in Detroit's crime-and violence-ridden 10th Precinct. It is three blocks from the corner where Detroit's 1967 riot began.

Police said that a couple living upstairs heard the shots but remained upstairs and did nothing because they were afraid.

No More Motor Bike Riding in City Parks

The City Directors ordered the Parks and Recreation Department to stop motor bikes from cruising through the play areas in the city parks.

They have had a number of complaints of motor bikes speeding inside the parks and parents have complained about riders whizzing through the areas where children are playing. The City Directors said that if the dangerous operation of these motor scooters could not be controlled they would be prohibited from coming into the park. The Hope Police Department have said that they would impound any vehicle caught operating in the play areas.

The strait is bordered on the east by the Arab republic of South Yemen and on the west by French Somaliland. Perim is part of South Yemen, which threatened at the end of 1967 to shut the strait to Israeli shipping.

A senior Israeli official commented at the time that Israel would not tolerate such a move. The Israeli air force's Phantom fighter-bombers from the United States could fly to Perim and back by refueling in flight.

John Tallant, District Engineer for the State Highway Department, and the city directors met with 20 residents of South Main Street for discussion of the proposed reconstruction of this street to provide a width of 48 feet from 3rd Street to 23rd.

Tiny Island Could Spawn Mid-East Fight

By MARCUS ELIASON
Associated Press Writer
TEL AVIV (AP) — The Israelis are speculating whether a tiny Arabian island 1,300 miles to the south might spawn the next Middle East war.

The island is Perim, in the Bab al Mandab strait that joins the Red Sea and the Gulf of Aden. Like Sharm el Sheikh farther north, it could be used to close the sea lane to Israel's southern port, Aqaba. And any such action would undoubtedly provoke a war, just as Egypt's attempt to blockade the Tiran Strait from Sharm el Sheikh resulted in the 1967 war.

The threat of such action was raised last Friday when Arabs in a speedboat fired bazookas at an Israel-bound oil tanker in the Bab al Mandab oil tanker in the Bab al Mandab strait. The radical Arab guerrilla group that used to specialize in airplane hijackings, the Popular Front for the Liberation of Palestine, said it made the attack.

The bazooka rockets caused little damage to the tanker. But the government in Jerusalem said it took a "very grave view" of the incident and its implications.

The Bab al Mandab strait is 13 miles wide, but only nine miles of water west of Perim Island is navigable. Perim itself is only three square miles with a population of about 300 persons.

The strait is bordered on the east by the Arab republic of South Yemen and on the west by French Somaliland. Perim is part of South Yemen, which threatened at the end of 1967 to shut the strait to Israeli shipping.

Rules Cities Can Close Public Pools

By BARRY SCHWEID
Associated Press Writer
WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court ruled 5 to 4 today that cities faced with integration orders may close down swimming pools and other public facilities, denying their use to both blacks and whites.

Turning down a plea by a group of Jackson, Miss., Negroes, the court said there is no illegal discrimination when neither blacks nor whites have the use of public facilities. All the Constitution requires, said Justice Hugo L. Black, is that the states do not promote separation of the races.

The pools ruling marks another turning point in Supreme Court rulings. It was a rare defeat for civil rights forces after years of almost uninterrupted victory in the high court.

The decision was forged by an alignment with Black of the two Nixon administration appointments, Chief Justice Warren E. Burger and Justice Harry A. Blackmun, and two conservative holdovers, John M. Harlan and Potter Stewart.

In dissent were Justices William O. Douglas, William J. Brennan Jr., Byron R. White and Thurgood Marshall.

Black, speaking for the majority, said, "Neither the 14th Amendment or any act of Congress purports to impose an affirmative duty on a state to begin to operate or to continue to operate swimming pools. Furthermore, this is not a case where whites are permitted to use public facilities while blacks are denied access."

Black added: "It is not a case where a city is maintaining different sets of facilities for blacks and whites and forcing the races to remain separate in recreational or educational activities."

Weekend Accidents Are Minor

City police report two accidents Saturday and two accidents Sunday. In the first accident Saturday, a car driven by Ricky Poindexter, Texarkana, hit a car driven by Willy L. Henry of Lewisville. Damage was minor and no charges were filed. The accident occurred at East Division and Walnut Sts.

The second Saturday accident occurred at S. Hervey and 2nd Sts. when a car driven by William Bain of Hope ran into the rear of a car driven by Richard Tedder of Houston, Tex. No charges were filed and minor.

Sunday, a car driven by Thomas Ray Leonard of Hope hit a car driven by Jack Turner of Hope as Leonard pulled on to the Patmos Road from the Dixie Drive-In. Leonard was charged with failure to yield right of way.

Also Sunday, a car driven by Warren Beasley, Little Rock, hit a car driven by Lucille Wilhite, Camden, on Highway 67 at the Bobcat Drive-In. Beasley was charged with following too close.

Violations reported for the week were ten traffic violations, four license violations, three drunkenness, two DWI, one disturbing the peace, three contributing to the delinquency of a minor, five failure to answer summons. There has been a total of 152 accidents for the year with three injuries and two deaths.

Soviet Vote Goes Exactly as Expected

By JAMES R. PEIPERT
Associated Press Writer

MOSCOW (AP) — Election of new parliaments and local councils in the 15 Soviet republics brought the usual huge turnout of voters Sunday to give a massive endorsement to the Communist candidates. Nikita Khrushchev was on hand, looking fine, and the three cosmonauts orbiting the earth voted by radio.

As usual, a turnout of more than 99 per cent of the voters was expected. Those whose names are not checked off at the polls receive visits from party members demanding an explanation.

"It's Nikita Khrushchev, it's Nikita Khrushchev," whispered the crowd at a polling place in downtown Moscow as a chauffeur-driven black Volga pulled up to the curb with the former premier and his wife, Nina Petrovna.

Emerging from the car and doffing his straw hat to those who greeted him, Khrushchev, 76, told foreign newsmen that his health was "not bad." He looked very trim and fit, although he has suffered a recurring heart ailment and was hospitalized twice in 1970.

Asked how he was spending his time, the former premier replied, "well, I'm a pensioner now. What can a pensioner do?"

Since the current leaders ousted him in October 1964, Khrushchev has lived quietly in the country outside Moscow, but he also has an apartment in Moscow.

Soviet television showed the three cosmonauts—Georgy Dobrovolsky, Vladislav Volkov and Viktor Patsayev—gathered around the central control panel in their space laboratory as Dobrovolsky read off their votes.

"We give our votes to the candidates of the inviolable bloc of Communists and non-party members," he said. He ended with a "vote for the wise foreign and domestic policies of our Communist party, for the implementation of the grandiose plans of the new five-year plan."

Allies Battle Enemy on Three Fronts

By GEORGE ESPER
Associated Press Writer

SAIGON (AP) — Cambodian and South Vietnamese troops battled Communist forces on three fronts in Cambodia Sunday and today.

In South Vietnam, North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces intensified their attacks in the central highlands and maintained their three-week-old siege of Fire Base 5, where fighting broke out 500 yards from the barbed wire perimeter.

North Vietnamese Premier Pham Van Dong urged Communist forces in South Vietnam to step up the war. He told North Vietnam's new National Assembly that the U.S. program to train and strengthen the South Vietnamese war machine is failing. He said this has created "a very favorable opportunity for our countrymen and compatriots in the South to step up their military and political struggle."

In the Cambodian fighting, troops from the 9th North Vietnamese-Viet Cong Division launched new assaults in a downpour early today against Cambodian army bunkers around two hamlets in the Vihear Suor marshes 15 miles east of Phnom Penh. Fighting continued for more than eight hours, but there was no word of casualties or other details.

The battle for small patches of high ground which will remain above water during the current monsoon season is now in its third week. The area is part of an important North Vietnamese supply route and is the key to Phnom Penh's eastern defenses.

On a second front, 25 miles southwest of Phnom Penh, North Vietnamese attacks drove government troops from the devastated district town of Srang, on Highway 3. Srang has changed hands several times, and the Cambodians reoccupied it last week. Seventy miles northeast of Phnom Penh near the border with South Vietnam, South Vietnamese infantrymen crashed into about 150 enemy troops near the town of Kerk and reported 29 North Vietnamese were killed and 11 wounded, a communique said.

In South Vietnam's central highlands, South Vietnamese paratrooper reinforcements fought the North Vietnamese into the night Sunday at Fire Base 5, near the tri-border juncture of South Vietnam, Cambodia and Laos.

Saigon headquarters said 24 North Vietnamese were killed in a 5½-hour fight, while South Vietnamese losses were one man killed and 21 wounded.

Rebalancing U.S. Wealth Need Cited

WASHINGTON (AP) — Pulaski County Clerk Jerome Climer told the House Ways and Means Committee this morning that internal turmoil and a need for rebalancing of the national wealth are two significant reasons for the adoption of President Nixon's general revenue-sharing proposals.

In explaining his reasons to the committee, chaired by Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., Climer attacked the "bureaucratic entanglement that has reached a state of complexity which defies the citizens' ability to cope, comprehend and conquer." He charged that the national government has failed to solve new problems that have arisen in the last 10 years.

"General revenue - sharing could begin to make government more decentralized, more responsive," he said. "It has the potential of being one element in reversing our current condition of government away from the people."

Climer then criticized the seniority system in Congress, saying that the system has helped to unbalance the national wealth against the poorer states.

"If we acknowledge that the seniority system is coming to an end and we encourage the development of revenue - sharing, we will find that we can influence our government more directly and that we can formalize the rebalancing of the national wealth," Climer said.

He encouraged committee members to respond "to the 77 per cent of the population who favor general revenue-sharing ... by allowing the House, as a whole, to vote on the general revenue-sharing proposal."

Mills is opposed to revenue-sharing proposed by the President, whose plan is not expected to get out of committee.

Presbyterians Are Torn by Strife

MASSANETTA SPRINGS, Va. (AP) — Progressives still are at the helm of the conflict-ridden Presbyterian Church, U.S. (Southern) after election of a new top officer.

But opponents say more decisive tests lie ahead.

In the opening round of the denomination's 111th General Assembly, the Rev. Dr. Ben Lacy Rose, 56, a Richmond, Va., seminary professor who favors North-South Presbyterian reunion and other changes, won the moderator's post Sunday.

He beat out a conservative-backed candidate, the Rev. Dr. James Kennedy, a Fort Lauderdale, Fla., pastor, by a vote of 271 to -170 on a second ballot. The plan for uniting the million-member Southern Church with the 3.2 million-member United Presbyterian Church is among numerous sharp conflicts at the assembly here.

to their property, and exactly how much property would be needed. Following the meeting, a number of people signed easements granting the additional right-of-way and there were indications that most everyone agreed with the state's proposed plans.

Mr. Tallant explained that the highway department would make every effort to minimize the inconvenience caused by the construction and that all driveways will be rebuilt and all sidewalks that are damaged or removed will be replaced. The plans showed all the trees that would have to be removed and those that could remain.

City Manager, Garland Medders, explained the work that will be done by the city in connection with the street rebuilding. The sanitary sewer lines will be rebuilt and relocated the entire distance of South Main Street. The water lines will be relocated and in most all cases will be out from under the pavement. The city also will have to furnish storm sewers from Main Street to the L&A railroad right-of-way. It will require three-48 inch storm sewers to handle the water that will be collected along Main Street. The city's engineering plans are complete and the engineers estimate the cost to the city at $173,000.

The sewer and water lines all along South Main are in bad condition and the city has been waiting for several years to make these replacements in order that the work could be done at the time the state highway rebuilds the street. Mr. Tallant says that the state will spend over $350,000 on the project. In addition to the 48' paved street, they will build new curb and gutter all the way from 3rd Street to 23rd and a part of the way toward the underpass on west 23rd Street. The state and city forces are trying to get all right-of-way and other details completed in time to present to the State Highway Commission at their regular meeting on June 23. If the commission approves the project on that date, there is a possibility that contracts could be let during July.

LaFayette, Little River and Nevada were free of traffic fatalities during the reporting period. Mosier said troopers in the 9 county area investigated 84 accidents. Miller County experienced the highest accident rate during May recording 18 accidents, followed by Hempstead County with 13 accidents, Clark and Pike 11 each, Sevier 10, Nevada 7, Little River 6, Howard 5 and LaFayette 3 accidents.

The report indicated that excessive speed was the leading contributing cause in the accidents followed by failure to yield the right of way, driving while under the influence of alcohol and inattention.

The 63 traffic fatalities occurred in 50 fatal collisions. Statewide troopers investigated 1128 accidents during the month of May.

Mosier has issued a plea for all motorists to drive with care during the "100 Days of Danger."

About SS

If you have any questions regarding social security, send them to the Social Security Administration, P. O. Box 1319, Texarkana, Texas, Attention: Glenda Bozeman

Q. I am age 56 and totally disabled. My husband is not in good health either. I have never worked. If my husband was to die, would I be eligible for any social security?

A. If a widow has no children in her care under age 18 and is age 50 or over and totally disabled, then she may qualify for benefits as a disabled widow. This would be decided by medical records showing the severity of the person's condition.

Q. I understand that when a worker dies social security pays a lump sum amount. Is this in addition to monthly benefits?

A. Yes. If the deceased worker was insured under social security (worked the required length of time), a lump sum death payment is made in addition to any monthly benefits to eligible survivors.

Q. I will be 65 in March and I am still working. What do I need to do to sign up for Medicare?

A. You should apply for Medicare 3 months before your birthday. You can sign up for Medicare by calling the Social Security Office or visiting the Social Security Office in Texarkana or the office in the Federal Building at Hope, Mondays and Thursdays.

Q. What does social security offer me as a young worker?

A. Social security is a valuable protection that can pay monthly benefits to you and your family in case of a disability caused by an illness or accident. It pays benefits to survivors in the case of your death. In later life you will be able to look forward to a retirement income.

Q. I am receiving social security benefits, and am returning to work. Do I need to report this?

A. If your earnings for the year will amount to more than $1680 you will need to report this to your local social security office. Call them for assistance in completing the necessary reports to stop or adjust your

MOTHER'S DAY GIVES HER SHUDDERS

Dear Helen:

"Down with Mother's Day," says I!

It causes more problems and hurt feelings than any other special day of the year.

On that one occasion, normally sensible women weep from self-pity (if the child visits mother-in-law instead); pout because they got gifts instead of visits, and-or monthly benefits.

Q. My husband has been dead for two years. I am 57 years old, and am unable to work. Can I draw any of his social security now?

A. You may be able to qualify for disabled widow's benefits. You should go to your nearest social security office as soon as possible to file a claim. Take along your husband's social security card, your own social security card, some proof of your age, and the names and addresses of doctors and hospitals that have treated you for your condition.

Texas attraction

ARLINGTON, Tex. (UPI) — Six Flags Over Texas, a giant amusement park, has attracted 16 million persons—more than one and a half times the Texas population—since it opened in 1961.

Include your address!

LANSING, Mich. (UPI) — More than 2,000 persons who have written for the 1971 Michigan highway map failed to furnish an address where the map should be sent, says the Michigan Highway Department.

Requests for the new map have passed the 25,000 mark since it came off the presses March 1. The department has 2 million maps for free distribution.

visits instead of gifts; feel suddenly old and alone (the children are scattered); upbraid their husbands ("You made me a mother, why didn't you get me a gift?") and do all manner of stupid things.

Last May 9, I found myself furious because I had to cook dinner for eight—all the children and their spouses converged from various cities. Yet, normally, I would have been enchanted that they all got together for a visit and, in fairness, I must admit they did most of the work. (So the "mad" only lasted about 50 seconds.)

Do other mothers agree? Why a special day that puts the children in a bind and mothers in a snit, when we should treat our families equally well all year?—MRS. T.D.

Dear Mrs. D.:

One of my correspondents calls Mother's Day "Atonement Day" as those gifts make up (supposedly) for a year's neglect. On the other hand, she might have nothing at all, without it, and I often wonder if such self-pitying mothers earn such treatment.

Anyway, those "special days" are great for a sagging economy. They bring out the shoppers.—H. Dear Helen:

My aunt's dog bit our little son who went up to pet him. Not wanting to upset my aunt, we didn't tell her we had the bite checked by the doctor. He said we should notify the Board of Health, because of possible rabies, which we did, though we were sure the dog was healthy. We figured that ended it.

Well, the authorities came out to check her dog, and now she is furious at us. She accused me on the phone of making a federal case out of a little "scratch." I lost my temper and told her she should be more concerned about the people her dog attacks and, after all, WE were the ones who had the worry and the doctor bill. She shouted, "If that's the way you feel, send me the bill! My insurance will cover it." All this just because we tried to shield her.

Well, our son's bite is well, the dog is fine (but still frisky), and we have a family feud on our hands. Must I apologize for HER dog biting MY son?—BADLY

HURT

Dear Hurt:

Apologize? No Explain? Yes. But not in anger.

A short letter telling your aunt how all this came about, should bring an apology from HER.—H. Dear Helen:

I'm glad you told "The Older Kids" that "one party won't stop chronic fighting."

Two years ago I gave my battling parents an anniversary present by sending them to Florida and the Bahamas, thinking things would get better. Another time I gave them a car, and a big anniversary party. Nothing helped. My father continued on with his girl friend. My mother remained miserable.

Deep-rooted problems aren't solved that easily. Bringing unhappily married people together against their will might even push them farther apart.—ANOTHER CHILD

Weiskopf New Kemper Open Champ

By BOB GREEN
Associated Press Golf Writer
Tom Weiskopf stroked in an eight-foot birdie putt on the first hole of a sudden-death playoff Sunday to beat Lee Trevino, South African Gary Player and Dale Douglass for the title in the Kemper Open Golf Tournament. The four-man field matched the largest playoff group in PGA history.

All four finished the regulation 72 holes of this $150,000 tourney at 277, 11 under par, on the Quail Hollow Country Club course—at 7,278 yards, the longest on the pro tour this season.

Weiskopf, who ended three years of winless frustration, made up the most ground—charging from six strokes off the pace with only four holes to play. He finished with a final-round 69, as did Player, and Trevino. Douglass bogeyed the last two holes for a 70.

Weiskopf birdied his last four holes and, with Douglass' two bogeys, made up six strokes in the final four holes to gain his place in the playoff.

All four players went to the 15th hole—a 599-yard par-five—to begin the playoff.

All drove the left side of the fairway, and all were just short with their second shots.

All chipped to the green. First the lean and lanky Douglass ran his 25-foot birdie putt just by the hole. Then Trevino's try from 18 feet slid by the cup. Next it was Player, and the little Johannesburg rancher who birdied the final hole to gain his spot in the playoff field, was a bitterly disappointed man when he missed from 15 feet.

Now it was Weiskopf, who had it eight feet from the flag. The tall, handsome 28-year-old, who hadn't won since he scored two victories in 1968, carefully lined up the putt.

Then he stepped away from it, lined it up again, wiped the sweat from his hands—and knocked it in.

He raised a clenched fist aloft in a victory gesture, then began leaping around the green in exultation.

The victory was worth $30,000. The three playoff losers each picked up $11,600.

Legal Battles Continue

By JIM CHURCH
SALT LAKE CITY (AP) — Utah Stars coach Bill Sharman has won the first round in his contract dispute with the Stars owners, but the legal battles are expected to continue this week and eventually could reach a court trial.

At the end of two days of hearings Saturday, Judge D. Frank Wilkins of Utah's 3rd District Court ordered that a temporary restraining order against Sharman be lifted at noon Tuesday.

Attorneys for Sharman, who coached the Stars to the American Basketball Association title last season, argued that restraining Sharman any longer would amount to restraint of trade and would, in effect, accede to the Stars' desire to keep Sharman from signing with Los Angeles of the National Basketball Association.

Unless there is further legal action, such as an appeal to a higher court, Sharman will be free to leave the Stars, the judge ruled.

Funseth, 70 and Bob Lunn, 73, followed at 279. Four more were at 280, and Arnold Palmer, who managed par 72 on the final round, was in a group at 281. Lunn had started the hot and humid day one stroke in front of Douglass, a winner here two years ago. But Douglass took over the top spot with an eagle three on the fifth hole and held it until he began to falter in the stretch.

Orioles Edge White Sox 2-1

BALTIMORE (AP) — Mark Belanger's chop off home plate scored Brooks Robinson with the winning run in the seventh inning as the Baltimore Orioles edged the Chicago White Sox 2-1 Sunday.

While the Orioles converted their only two scoring chances, Mike Cuellar 10-1, eased out of three jams before giving up a Tom Egan home run and recorded his eighth victory in a row.

Robinson opened the seventh for the Orioles, who have won 12 of their last 14, with a single and moved around to third on a walk and a force play.

When Belanger's two-out chopper bounced high in the air, Robinson raced home with the tie-breaking run. Third baseman Bill Melton's throw was too late to get Belanger at first.

Belanger's speed also figured in Baltimore's first run. The slender shortstop singled in the third off loser Tommy John, 3-8, moved to second on Cuellar's safe bunt, stole third and scored as Don Buford hit into a force play.

Whitworth Is Ladies PGA Champion

By DAVE O'HARA
SUTTON, Mass. (AP) — Veteran Kathy Whitworth regained the Ladies PGA championship which eluded her in playoffs in 1968 and 1970 by winning the rich $55,000 Eve tournament Sunday with a 72-hole total of 288 at Pleasant Valley Country Club.

The 31-year-old Texan, the top money winner of all time on the LPGA tour, fired a final round 74, 1 over par, in capturing the title she first won in 1967.

Miss Whitworth fashioned her 59th LPGA tournament victory, second only to Mickey Wright's record 81, while picking up first prize of $7,950 and boosting her official earnings to $326,054 since she turned pro in 1959. She put together rounds of 71-73-70-74 in winning her third consecutive tournament since breaking out of her slump two weeks ago in the Suzuki International. Kathy breezed to an easy victory in the Lady Carling at Baltimore last week.

Miss Whitworth applied the pressure on one of her favorite courses. She has won four tournaments at the par 36-37-73, 6,130-yard Pleasant Valley course in addition to being beaten in the playoffs since the tour first stopped at Pleasant Valley in 1962.

Miss Whitworth cautiously nursed a three-stroke lead over Kathy Aherm entering the final round. Miss Aherm, a non-winner since joining the tour three years ago, went two over par for a 76 but collected runnerup money of $5,800.

Sandra Haynie, a three-time winner on the pro tour this year, made a drive to overtake Miss Whitworth in the final nine holes,

5th Straight Victory for KC Royals

By ROBERT MOORE
KANSAS CITY (AP) — Jerry May's sixth-inning single scored Chuck Harrison with the tie-breaking run and gave the Kansas City Royals their fifth straight victory Sunday, a 4-3 decision over the slumping Boston Red Sox.

Bert, 9-3, who departed in the sixth and failed for the third straight time to win his 10th game and score the 100th victory of his major league career.

The Royals, trailing, 3-1, tied the game in the fifth on a walk to pinch hitter Ted Savage, Fred Patek's single, Paul Schaal's run-scoring single and Amos Otis' double play grounder that scored Patek.

Harrison beat out a roller to short and Joe Keough walked before May delivered his game-winning hit.

Mets 5-4 Over San Francisco

NEW YORK (AP) — Ken Singleton's bases-loaded sacrifice fly in the 10th inning scored Bud Harrelson and gave the New York Mets a 5-4 victory over San Francisco Sunday in a game delayed three times by rain.

Harrelson opened the 10th with a double off Steve Hamilton, the fourth Giant pitcher, and Al Weis was purposely passed. Ed Kranepool sacrificed and Donn Clendenon also drew an intentional walk, filling the bases.

Singleton, who hit a two-run homer in the second inning and singled and scored in the fourth, then lifted the first pitch to me dium center and Harrelson just beat Bobby Bonds' throw to the plate. It marked the fifth time this season the seldom-used Singleton had driven in the winning run.

The Giants tied the score for the second time at 4 all in the fifth inning on Bonds' 15th homer of the year, which knocked out Met starter Gary Gentry.

Christian Softball Action

In Saturday's Christian Athletic Association softball action, 5th and Grady Church of Christ defeated Gospel Tabernacle 15-13. Wayne Artebury honored for the 5th and Grady Church of Christ. In the second game, Unity Baptist beat Providence Baptist Church 36-1. Harvey Fullerton hit two homers and David Griffin hit a grand slam for Unity.

then faded finishing in a three-way tie for third with Sandra Post Elliott, the 1968 LPGA champion, and former New England titlist Jane Blalock.

St. Louis Downed 8-4 by Pirates

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Richie Hebner's three-run homer capped a five-run explosion in the ninth inning Sunday that lifted the streaking Pittsburgh Pirates to an 8-4 victory over slump-ridden St. Louis.

The Pirates, who lead the National League East, have won four in a row and 12 of their last 16 games. The Cardinals, who have fallen to third place, have dropped six straight and 10 of 13.

Dave Cash and Gene Clines started the ninth inning rally with infield hits off Steve Carlton, 10-3, who was trying to become the NL's first 11-game winner.

Roberto Clemente singled home the tying run and Willie Stargell's sacrifice fly put the Pirates in front. Chuck Taylor relieved Carlton and allowed a single to Manny Sanguillen before Hebner walloped his sixth home run of the season.

The Cards had taken the lead with two runs in the sixth on Jim Beauchamp's double, Ted Sizemore's single, an error by second baseman Cash and a single by Luis Melendez.

Legion Team Wins 3 of 4 Games

Although starting off slowly and getting behind with a 1-4 record, the Hope Junior American Legion Baseball team came back last week with three wins in four games under new head coach David Fayad.

Last week's scores are: Hope 3, Hot Springs 1; Hope 10, Camden 9; Hope 10, Mena 3; Hope 3, Sheridan 4.

Hope's next game will be Tuesday night at Legion Field with a return match against Nashville. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Not All Records Are Made to Be Broken*

By IRA BERKOW
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK — (NEA) — When following sports, one comes to learn a whole new language in optimism: The game is never over until the last man is out, winners never quit—quitters never win, the impossible just takes a little longer, and so forth.

But sometimes even sports people delude themselves through the blinders of nostalgia. Especially baseball people, and especially in the case of "sacred records." It got so bad, in fact, that old-line baseballers refused to accept without an asterisk Roger Maris' 61 home runs in a single season, for the "immortal Babe Ruth" had set the "immortal" record of 60 homers in 1927.

Now, Henry Aaron and Willie Mays both have an opportunity to overtake another gargantuan Ruthian record—714 homers in a career. A scan through "The Little Red Book," baseball's official book of records published by Elias Sports Bureau, turns up many more "impossible" and "immortal" records that may never be broken:

Lou Gehrig's "Iron Man" record of playing in 2,130 consecutive regular-season games, over a 14-year period.

Billy Williams of the Cubs is second with a very distant 982. Most baseball people feel that present-day scheduling, with few off-days, and the physical wear-and-tear of plane flights, ar-

Citizens Team in 1st Place

In Friday night's Babe Ruth action, Blevins defeated First National 10 to 5 and Citizen's Bank beat Corn Belt 11 to 10.

Gregory and Yates were the pitchers for Blevins with Price, Hogan and Bramlett all seeing action on the mound for First National. Blevins scored one run in the second, added nine more in the 4th, while First National could only score three in the third and two in the 4th.

Citizens victory over the tough, hard-hitting Corn Belt team gave them first place in the league standings. Citizens blew a nine-run lead as Corn Belt tied the game at 10 all in the top of the fifth. Neither team could score in the sixth and in the seventh Citizens was able to push across one run and then was able to hold Corn Belt to no runs in the bottom half of the inning.

The league standings are:

Citizens Bank	6	2
Corn Belt	5	3
Merchants	4	4
Anderson-Frazier	4	4
Blevins	3	5
First National	2	6

list (behind Lou Groza) with 1,130 points. Fred Cox of Minnesota leads National Conference players with 790 points.

tificial turf and night baseball will keep Gehrig's record unapproachable.

Most errors in a game, seven, held by shortstops George Smith (Brooklyn in 1885) and J. Hallinan (New York Mutuals in 1876) is untouchable.

In this age of violent reaction, managers always shoot players after their fifth error committed in a game.

Most games won in a lifetime, 511, by Cy Young, is a sure bet for immortality.

When a pitcher reaches 300 wins now a days (and only eight have in history—Early Wynn was the last), the pitcher's arm is removed and sent to a scientific laboratory.

Connie Mack's record of having managed for 53 straight years.

Since the invention of ulcers, few managers live 53 years, starting from their birth.

Most consecutive years managing an eighth-place team, seven, by the estimable Mr. Mack.

Eighth-place has gone the way of bowler hats and spats.

Ty Cobb's lifetime batting average of .367. Some 10-year veterans in this age won't bat .367 after ADDING UP their combined yearly averages.

Most games lost in a season by a pitcher, 48, John Coleman (Philadelphia, National League, in 1883).

In this age of inferiority complexes, a pitcher usually has a mental breakdown after his 32nd loss of the season.

Joe DiMaggio's feat of hitting in 56 straight games.

Tommy Holmes' National League record of 37 straight games is formidable in its own right. Hitting in 56 games would be like reaching the moon in a day by balloon.

Pitching most shutouts in a doubleheader, two, by Ed Ruelbach (Chicago Cubs in 1908).

Shutouts are very hard to come by these days.

Most triples in a lifetime, 312, by Sam Crawford.

Because of symmetrical ball parks, hard artificial turf and the long ball, triples are becoming a memory. Roberto Clemente, for instance, leads active players in triples with just over one-half of Crawford's total. Clemente will probably not even hit 200 triples at career's end.

Most runs off a pitcher in a game, 35, David E. Howe (Cleveland AL, July 24, 1882).

Pitchers these days are commonly lynched by their teammates after the 23rd run given up in a game.

The records of Satchel Paige.

The Negro Leagues did not keep records and statistics.

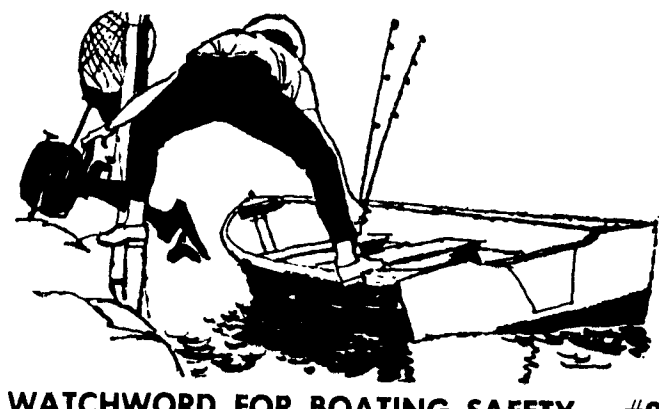

The records of Josh Gibson, Judy Sweet Juice Johnson and Cool Papa Bell.

TIPS ON FISHING AND BOATING

FISH TALK

WATCHWORD FOR BOATING SAFETY - #2

1. Use the right motor on the right boat — don't overpower it! 2. Keep low when boarding and when you move around in the boat. 3. Don't carry things aboard, keep hands free. When putting motor on the boat, get in boat first, then lift motor from dock or have someone hand it to you. 4. Don't overload your boat. 5. Keep an eye on the weather, make for shore if you see a storm coming. 6. Stay with your boat should it capsize, it can keep you afloat until help comes.

You enjoy peace of mind with a safety deposit box. There is ample space for important papers, jewelry and other valuables - the cost is surprisingly low and it is conveniently accessible. Possessions are guarded against losses of all hazards.

Fearless Prediction

Open?: Nicklaus to Win

By LEE MUELLER

ARDMORE, Pa.—(NEA)—For years now, the world has been crying for someone to put teeth into the gutless chore of predicting the United States Open golf champion.

The task has become unbearably pigeonhearted in recent Junes. Since he won in 1962, Jack Nicklaus has been "favored" to win every subsequent U.S. Open. He has complied only once, in 1967, but picking Nicklaus to win another Open has become a kind of annual cop-out: like betting on Tuesday to follow Monday.

Oh, there is always a token amount of consideration given to the tournament site. ("Horses for courses," as they say. This time it's being conducted June 17-20 at historic Merion Golf Course, near Philadelphia. "Merion." Golfers refer to it in this manner; the way stockbrokers mention "Dow.")

Merion is where Bob Jones, climaxed his Grand Slam in 1930; where Ben Hogan won the 1950 Open by struggling through 90 holes in four days only a year after being critically injured in an auto accident; and where in 1960 (you'll hear a lot about this) amateur Jack Nicklaus established the course record of 269.

Merion is a short (6,550 yards, par 70) imaginatively designed layout with narrow fairways, a six-inch rough and mirror-slick greens. It's a good driver's course, they say, and, surely, Jack Nicklaus is a brilliant driver. It's a putter's course, too, they say, and you know how Jack Nicklaus can putt.

The only thing not exactly fashioned to Nicklaus' game, it would seem, are the wicker sticks. Merion's flagsticks are not topped by flags, but coconut-shaped wicker baskets—a tribute to the Scottish shepherd said to have invented golf on his lunch hour when he grabbed a makeshift club and ball and fired at his staff, on top of which he had placed his lunch basket.

But old Merion, our fearless prognosticators will tell you, is Jack Nicklaus' kind of course. (So are they all, all Jack Nicklaus' kind of course.) And a lot of people are tired of hearing it.

The fact is that while Nicklaus remains a logical choice to win every tournament he plays in, he does not. Sometimes Orville Moody wins the U.S. Open, just as sometimes Charles Coody or Gay Brewer wins the Masters.

It follows, then, that if one refuses the cop-out logic of a Nicklaus triumph, the gutsy thing to do is look for some fairly obscure player of questionable background to bet on. But it never happens.

To date, for instance, no headline writer has typed, boldly, "Wilf Homenuik Favored in '71 Open," or even, "Eichelberger Open Choice."

Now let them write:

"Joel Goldstrand of Rt. 3, Worthington, Minn., is favored to dethrone defending champion Tony Jacklin as the U.S. Open begins June 17..."

There. Quick and simple—which, says New York attorney-golfer Kenneth C. Bedford, is the problem in the first place.

"It's too easy for media people to go around predicting winners," he said. "If their predictions don't pan out, well, too bad. 'Sorry about that, Chief.' There's no penalty."

"Writers litter the world with predictions on which they have nothing at stake, not even their reputations as sports experts. Nobody really expects them to be right. And this isn't fair."

"Before a writer can foist his opinion on the world, he should wager something on it—just like the gamblers do. If he doesn't pick the right man, he should have to eat his left shoe or maybe swallow a couple of cue balls. Anything to show the public that he at least respects and has confidence in his own judgment."

Bedford has a point, of course and this being the case I would like to revise somewhat my original prediction concerning the outcome of the 1971 U.S. Open.

Let them write that Jack Nicklaus will prevail and let the world know that my left shoe is where my mouth is.

'Football Is My Life'

NEW YORK—(NEA)—The New York pro football writers had invited Gale Sayers back this year to present the George S. Halas award to Tom Dempsey as the most courageous athlete in the game.

One year ago last May, Sayers had himself received that award. He had come back from a wracking knee injury to lead the NFL in rushing with over 1,000 yards. But Sayers refused to keep the trophy.

Instead, he decided to give it to Brian Piccolo, his road roommate and the second-string running back to Sayers on the Chicago Bears.

"Brian has the heart of a giant," said Sayers then, to a hushed audience, "and that rare form of courage allows him to kid himself and his opponent, cancer. He has the mental attitude that makes me proud to have a friend who spells out the word courage twenty-four hours a day every day of his life."

Sayers concluded by saying, "You flatter me by giving me this award but I tell you here and now that I accept it for Brian Piccolo. Brian Piccolo is the man of courage who should receive the George S. Halas award. It is mine tonight, it is Brian Piccolo's tomorrow. . . . I love Brian Piccolo and I'd like all of you to love him, too. Tonight, when you hit your knees, please ask God to love him. . . ."

Brian Piccolo died three weeks later, on June 16.

Last season, Sayers again injured his knee. He has had an operation on it and is again hopeful of returning to past excellence. Following are his recent remarks upon presenting the Halas award to Dempsey, field-goal kicker of the New Orleans Saints, who was born with a deformed right (kicking) foot and deformed right hand: "Gentlemen—Good Evening."

"It is nice to be back—and just in case you are wondering—football can expect me back this fall."

"Football is my life. In recent months I have had considerable concern, which I am sure all of you share, about some of the astounding statements of certain professional football players."

"Professional football for the most part has provided opportunities unlimited for those men who have sufficient talent and a desire to participate."

"Tonight I will not give credence to those people who see fit to denigrate the game of football. I turn my back on them and I would suggest you do the same. I would prefer to keep my thoughts and words aimed at the stars."

"Last year it was my privilege to speak at this affair. And when I finished speaking, Coach Lombardi had some very private and some very kind words to say to me. Coach Lombardi isn't here tonight. Tonight he is with Brian. Brian once told me that he never wanted to be traded but that if he were—he wanted to be with Lombardi."

"Coach Lombardi's words were not always kind and not always private. Lombardi would have had no time for the malcontents who deem it their privilege to attempt to destroy the game of football. But he would have been the first to jump to his feet to cheer Tom Dempsey's 63-yard boot. Unless, of course, Tom had beaten Lombardi with it."

"Lombardi believed that football symbolized the attributes of America—stamina, courage, teamwork, self-denial, sacrifice, Spartanism, selflessness and respect for authority. He once said, 'The time has come to cheer for the achiever, the doer, the one who recognizes a problem and tries to do something about it. It is time we look up to the winner and stand up and cheer for the winner.' Tom Dempsey is a winner."

"The George S. Halas award is for courage. Coach Lombardi never failed to cheer a player who had courage and how he would cheer tonight if he could be here to see Tom Dempsey receive the award for courage."

"Last year I presented this award with love—tonight I present the George S. Halas award for courage—with great respect and admiration to—Tom Dempsey."

Arkansas Game & Fish

By CHARLES BURTON
LITTLE ROCK, June—The results are in for the 1971 spring turkey season, and the hunter success continues to climb. The total take this spring was 1,252 as compared to last year's total of 1,181.

Of this total 683 were taken in the first hunt, 542 were accounted for in the second season, and 27 were added in permit hunts on the St. Francis National Forest Wildlife Management Area and the Bayou DeView Wildlife Management Area.
Zone 11, which includes all of Garland Co. and parts of Hot Spring, Clark, Montgomery, Saline, Conway, Pope, Yell, and Perry Co., easily led all zones in the number of turkey taken with 344 being reported.
The Game and Fish Commission's turkey trapping and restocking program is continuing and according to Game Division Chief, Bob Leonard there are probably more turkeys in Arkansas, with more hunting opportunities, than at any time since the turn of the century.

A MATTER OF PERSPECTIVE

Oswald: "Today's hand illustrates a very simple, but important feature of bidding. It is that you should raise your partner's major suit opening with three trumps even though he may have opened a four-card suit."

Jim: "This does not mean you always raise immediately, if your hand is strong enough you can afford to bid another suit first and raise your partner later. But if you plan to make just one bid it is better to raise the major suit with three trumps than bid a new suit."

Oswald: "Today's hand illustrates this clearly. South belongs in four hearts. With the club finesse right he will make 10 or 11 tricks, depending on whether East holds up on his ace of spades."

If you're buying a used car—and you're smart—you will arrange to have someone who knows the ropes take a look at it first. A moonlighting mechanic is one answer. An automotive diagnostic clinic is another.

But suppose it's a used house you're buying instead? You can't haul that off to a clinic, and most competent builders are too busy with other work to spend time on such investigations.

Still, a structural going over is a sensible precaution. The typical home will cost 10 times as much as the family car and can house a pack of troubles that can set your budget on its ear for years to come.

Fortunately, there is a new breed of cat around who is ready and able to poke around in a building's innards and come to some practical conclusion as to its state of health. He's called a home inspector.

A home inspector is a sort of private detective of the building field. You hire him, point him in the right direction and, for a fee, he'll tell you everything there is to know about the shady side of the house you hope to buy.

A home inspector brings two valuable qualities to the job. He has a sound knowledge of the structural and mechanical components that make up a dwelling. And he has an unemotional approach to inevitable faults that occur in houses that have stood for several years. His final report is likely to pinpoint some items the seller would just as soon have left out of the limelight. And he may also put into perspective some matters that have been nagging at you since you took your first tour of the premises.

Home inspection is a relatively new trade. This means that it's organized in a loose manner that's hard to typify. Some inspectors are semi-retired contractors who've eased away from the building rat race. Others are building-trade professionals who work at it on a part-time basis.

Fees range from $35 to $75. Here's what you can expect for your money.

The inspector will cover the house from roof to basement, usually following a form that works as a checklist. At each stop, he checks for those half-hidden flaws that can mean expensive repairs or perhaps even downright danger.

DR. LAWRENCE E. LAMB

Avoid All Lung Irritants

Emphysema

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—My husband has emphysema so we came to Arizona to see if this climate would help him. He doesn't feel bad but is short of breath and can't walk for more than half a block. Is there anything that can be done? He doesn't take anything but a cough syrup to bring up that phlegm.

Dear Reader—Your husband needs to get a good doctor and follow his advice. Emphysema is a very difficult illness to treat. The basic problem is that the outlet for the small air sacs in the lungs is constricted. Air remains trapped in the lungs causing them to remain overinflated. One has to use force to expel the air. This limits the lungs ability to exchange air and to provide enough oxygen. The limited oxygen supply to the body limits the amount of exertion that a person can do.

It is important that anyone with emphysema should avoid all lung irritants—first on this list is tobacco. Unless a person with emphysema quits smoking there is little hope of controlling his disease. Dust, pollens and anything the patient is allergic to should be eliminated.

Some breathing difficulties in people with emphysema and related disorders are caused by infection. Any infection of the lungs should be detected and treated. Any respiratory infection can cause critically narrowing of the already constricted air passages and cause more trouble. For this reason treatment of any respiratory infection should be obtained at once.

Some relief can be obtained in some patients by using medicines that help to dilate the obstructed air passages. These are not effective in all people, however. Testing and trial usage of these medicines has to be done by the doctor taking care of the patient.

There are some general things a person can do to improve his efficiency even if he can't do much for his lungs. Any excess obesity should be eliminated. A person who is fat and can only walk a half block can walk a good deal farther after he has decreased his body weight. Some persons can improve the function of his skeletal muscles. Even if exercise capacity is limited you can exercise one muscle at a time, like one calf muscle then the other, until the muscles ail over the body have been exercised. It is a slow process. If you can improve the muscle strength you will increase the number of blood vessels in the muscles.

cles. This helps remove the oxygen more completely from the blood circulation through the muscle and is worth trying to improve physical capacity. It won't change the disease in the lungs.

Climate is probably not so important if one has adequate heating and air conditioning. Regardless of where one lives, allergies and respiratory infections should be avoided.

There is no substitute in this disease for good regular medical supervision. Don't try to go it alone.

Man in Small Kayak Is Lost at Sea

By STEVE WEINER
Associated Press Writer
SEATTLE (AP) — As a boy, he once sailed a small boat across the Baltic Sea. Now 25-year-old James Brinton has been lost at sea, the victim of what his stepfather calls an obsession to be the first to cross an ocean in a kayak.

"I used to be a seaman, and I know the power of the sea on a little boat, but there was nothing anyone could do to stop him," said James D. Moore.

"Jim always loved the water, but he just got possessed with an idea, and once he got it, that was it."

Brinton's capsized 17-foot craft was discovered intact by a fisherman in the Pacific Ocean about four miles off Washington's Olympic Peninsula early Sunday, 24 hours after the Seattle youth left LaPush, Wash., for what was to have been a 7,000-mile, three-month journey to Japan.

Two aircraft, a Coast Guard cutter and a local fishing boat searched in winds to 29 miles per hour and six-to-10-foot seas, but late Sunday Coast Guard spokesmen said there was little chance Brinton would be found alive.

Moore said he shared the official view, with some qualification.

Teachers to Get More Than Expected

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — The state Board of Education adopted a budget Sunday night that added an extra $23 a teacher to the average salary increase for teachers for the coming school year.

The extra $23 results from a budget surplus of between $700,000 and $800,000 and will provide teachers an average $423 raise for the coming year.

State Education Commissioner A. W. Ford said this amount, coupled with the $500 average the General Assembly funded for the second year of the biennium and the increases that school boards would provide from local tax funds, should raise teachers' salaries an average of $1,100 over the biennium.

The 1971 General Assembly appropriated funds to provide raises of $400 this year and $500 the next year for teachers.

The $423 raise is an average and not all teachers will get that amount next year. Ford said the extra $23-a-teacher came out of surplus created because the board did not budget all that the legislature had approved for spending.

HOPE (ARK.) STAR, Printed by Offset

"We anticipated that collections might not reach the anticipated amount and we had a conservative budget for the current fiscal year," Ford said.

Each district's share of the state funds depends on its local taxing ability. The per-teacher aid in the districts ranges from about $400 to about $600. Ford said between $900 and $1,000 for the average salary increase will be in state money and the rest provided by local effort.

As a result of Gov. Dale Bumpers' state government reorganization plan, the board will have supervision of almost half the general revenues of the state next year.

The Public School Fund budget approved by the board totals $138,111,677. Programs that are supervised by the board already constitute the largest general revenue budget and the reorganization law placed the state Library Commission, the Educational Television Commission and the Schools for the Blind and Deaf under control of the director of the Education Department.

Ford told the board Sunday in its first meeting since the General Assembly adjourned that the reorganization act did not clearly spell out all the relationships between the agencies under the department. He recommended that the policy-making boards of the agencies meet Aug. 15 to work out the problems, and the board agreed.

Ford also said that the legislature this year produced other monetary benefits to teachers and the school systems besides the increase in teachers' salaries.

One-fourth of the $10.5 million increase in Minimum Foundation Program aid will be given to local schools to help in other costs of operating the schools.

Joe L. Hudson, associate commissioner for finance, said it was only the second increase in operating aid to the schools since 1967. Much of that money will be used by districts to raise the salaries of noncertified school employees and for Social Security and retirement matching.

Ford said that among the other financial benefits to teachers were an increase of $900,000 in state aid to the Teachers Retirement System and a new program for furnishing workmen's compensation coverage for school employees.

Boy Scouts Struck by Lightning

GATLINBURG, Tenn. (AP) — Several members of a Boy Scout troop from Birmingham, Ala., were injured Sunday when they were struck by lightning while hiking in the Great Smoky Mountains National Park.

Park rangers said the injured scouts were being packed out of the park late Sunday and were to be transferred to a hospital as soon as possible.

Two scouts who hiked out for help told rangers they were taking shelter under a tree when the lightning hit.

An adult scout leader was seriously hurt and several scouts were injured, the pair said.

Rangers estimated it would be sometime early today before the injured scout leader and scouts could be carried out to the nearest road and taken to a hospital.

The troop was on the North Carolina side of the park, hiking towards Fontana Lake when the accident occurred.

The injured were to be taken to Blount Memorial Hospital in Maryville, Tenn., rangers said.

Fears Youths Missing Christ

CHICAGO (AP) — The Rev. Billy Graham says today's youth are in danger of missing the real Jesus Christ by trying to make Him a contemporary figure.

Graham made the comment Sunday in an evaluation of the rock opera "Jesus Christ, Superstar."

"While the rock opera is supposedly based on the Bible," Graham told the 32,000 persons attending the final meeting of his second Chicago Crusade, "it lacks a clear, compelling testimony of Scripture to the person of Jesus Christ. Over and over a chorus asks 'Who are you?' and the opera does not supply the answer."

Drummer Out of Action

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP) — Doctors say Dennis Wilson will be out of action for about two months as drummer for the Beach Boys rock group because of a household accident.

A spokesman said the 26-year-old musician cut his right hand when a pane of glass he was installing shattered.

Reduced in Rank for Masquerade

DA NANG, Vietnam (AP) — Glenn Storer, the GI whose brother took his place in Vietnam for a brief time, was reduced in rank two grades and fined $146 today for being absent without leave for 13 days.

Storer, 21, of Yarmouth, Maine, was reduced from specialist 4th class to private and ordered to forfeit $73 of his pay for two months. He waived a court-martial and was tried by his battalion commander.

A spokesman said Storer is now back with his unit at Landing Zone Chloe, a forward base in the Que Son mountains about 25 miles south of Da Nang. He is a member of a reconnaissance platoon in the Americal Division.

Glenn returned to Yarmouth for a two-week leave early in April. He told his brother Wesley, a 22-year-old ski instructor, that he hated the war and wasn't going back. Wesley, who looked much like Glenn, took his brother's uniform and papers and returned to Vietnam in his place.
